

Distributed Compliance Solution's Sales on Target for 2009

Doylestown, PA, December 8, 2009 - Distributed Compliance Solutions LLC ("DCS"), the premier hosting company of controlled content management solutions, today announced that sales are on plan to meet the 2009 sales goals approved by the company board in December 2008.

"In a year of challenges for everyone, DCS was able to meet and exceed our customer needs for a controlled, secure computer environment," declared Ken Lewis, VP of Business Development for DCS.

Distributed Compliance Solutions also grew staff by over 20% in 2009. The 2010 business plan includes hiring many of the current contractors to direct positions. DCS Members will meet later this month to review and approve the 2010 Plan.

DCS offers customers turn-key compliance environments for EMC Documentum Compliance Manager, records management and Microsoft SharePoint applications. These packages include Help Desk, Support and End User Training. At the end of March DCS saw customers struggling with staff cut backs and unbundled its packages to offer items as individual products. Today DCS host items such as Help Desk and Training as individual contracts for customer resident systems.

While legacy document migration to the new hosted system is standard with DCS hosting, today many of the customers are coming to DCS to migration paper or existing systems. "Customers migrating from older versions of EMC Documentum software to the current version is a majority of our current workload," John Nidelcheff, Managing Partner for DCS added, "DCS also saw a growth in the migration of paper business records to our hosted electronic repository for tracking and reporting as IT departments worked through budget challenges."
